1-Day Masterclass

Latest Trends in SOCMINT, OSINT & Cyber-Psychology

JANUARY 23, 2017 | VANCOUVER, B.C.

Find better information online, in less time, at less cost, with less risk™

Your organization is facing an ever-increasing number of internal and external security threats. As the business and tactical landscape shifts, security professionals, police, and intelligence agencies are now facing never before seen challenges in predicting and identifying a wide range of imminent threats and criminal activities.

Terror groups are posing a significant threat to economic well-being as they seek to advance their political agendas by attacking business premises, and we are seeing a significant shift from coordinated terrorist actions to unpredictable individual assaults. Inspired by online radical discussion forums, "Lone Wolf" terrorists are moving from traditional online platforms to the nefarious "Dark Web" to communicate with like-minded individuals.

Safety and success increasingly depends on the effective use of advanced data mining and search technologies, along with innovative approaches to cyber-psychology, geographic profiling, and social media analytics to generate actionable business and security intelligence.

Join internationally renowned online intelligence expert David Toddington for this unique one-day masterclass and learn about the latest tools and techniques for uncovering, identifying, and analyzing hidden online information that could be critical to public safety, business continuity, and security intelligence.
