201C OSINT

Navigating the New Era of Open Source Intelligence

November 4-5, 2026 | 10:00 AM-6:00 PM Eastern Time | 8:00 AM-4:00 PM Pacific Time | 3:00 PM-11:00 PM UTC

Knowledge Hides in Plain Sight - Master the Skills Required to Uncover It

In a world awash with disinformation, censorship, source credibility issues, AI feedback loops and "infoxication", finding reliable information online is now more challenging than ever.

This engaging and comprehensive two-day hands-on course will provide you with updated skills, new ways of thinking, and the cutting-edge online tools required to navigate the online domain with precision, efficiency, and ethical integrity.

YOU WILL LEARN

- Advanced Search Techniques: The latest tools and techniques used by intelligence analysts, law enforcement, cybersecurity experts, and corporate investigators.
- A New Investigative Mindset: To tackle challenges posed by AI-driven search engines and use them more effectively.
- To Identify Deception and Suspicious Activity: The cognitive mechanisms behind deception and the techniques for effectively overcoming them.
- To Leverage Online Monitoring and Automation Tools: Setting up systems to convert raw data into actionable insight, while avoiding common traps that result in failures.
